

Why doesn't everyone vote in a school election?

Every parcel within Georgetown Township is located within the school district boundary lines of either Jenison Public Schools, Hudsonville Public Schools or Grandville Public Schools. If you find where you live on the map below, you can see if you are within the Jenison Public School district (purple), or Hudsonville Public School district (tan) or Grandville Public School District (pink). The school taxes you pay go directly to the school district in which you live (regardless of which school your children attend due to school-of-choice).

Every resident of a specific school district has the right to vote in elections for that PARTICULAR school district ONLY, regardless of where your children attend school. So, for example, if you live within the Jenison Public School district, you vote ONLY when Jenison Public School has an election. If Hudsonville Public Schools has an election and you live in the Jenison Public School district, you cannot vote in that election (even if your children attend Hudsonville Public Schools). If you have questions regarding which school district you reside in, or have other questions, contact the Township Office at 616-457-2340.
